Mrs. Purnell Has Such Bad Day at Richmond Hospital That Judge Adjourns Court.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 10.-An libre-ary is announced for General Organizer E. D. Smith, of the Southern Cotton Association, and President C. C. Moore, of the North Carolina division, Southern Cotton Association, the tour embracing a number of the principal towns in the zotton bett of this State. They will present especially the work of the cotton association, and the plan for the formation of bonded warehouse-holding companies in every cotton county in the South. The dates for the speakers are: Statesville, April 19th; Wadesboro, April 19th; Louisburg, April 12th; Smithfield, April 16th; Goldsboro, April 15th; Enfield, April 16th; Goldsboro, April 17th; Greenville, April 18th; Kinston, April 19th; Fayetteville, April 20th.

President Moore has just issued an address to the cotton-growers of the State, urging that acreage be reduced especially for the reason that there is E. D. Smith, of the Southern Cotton As-urges that acreage be devoted to growing home supplies ample for the needs of the farmer before the size of the cotton crop is determined upon.

United States Marshal Claudius Dockery and other Federal Court officers returned this morning from Elizabeth City, where Judge Thomas R. Purnell held court the past three days. He went back to Richmond, where Mrs. Purnell is being treated in a hospital. She was improving when the judge left for Elizabeth City Monday, but he received a telegram yesterday that she was having a very bad day of it. Their friends are very apprehensive.

There was not a single jury trial during the session of the court. One defendant, Malachi Cofield, submitted to the charge of distilling brandy without license, and judgment was suspended. A Mrs. Lincoln was arraigned for padding her reports of canceled stamps, but the case was finally continued. The captain of Life-Saving Station No. 2 had heen bound over in the Commissioners' Court on the charge of retailing liquor, but the grand jury found a not true

A charter is issued for the Liberty Cotton Mill, of Clayton, capital $120,000, by J. T. Ellington, A. J. Barbour and others. The docket of Eleventh District appeals, to be called next Tuesday in the Supreme Court, is as follows: State vs. Banks, Greenwood vs. Southern Railway Company, Fitts vs. Grocery Company, Fitts vs. Grocery Company, Sprinkle vs. Brim, Worth vs. Grocery Company, Sprinkle vs. Brim, Worth vs. Wrenn, Harris vs. Smith, Jones vs. Layne, Shober vs. Wheeler, Clgarette Machine Company vs. Tobacco Company, Fainter vs. Railroad Company, Jones vs. Tobacco Company.

nizance to appear at the next term and show that he had not been fooling any more around blockade stills.

At the afternoon session the unusual spectacle of a handsomely dressed woman, Miss Hattle Shafer, of Stokes county, on trial for failure to pay the proper tax on brandy distilled by her was witnessed. The lady in her defense testified that the "pummles" with which she had been charged up on the beoks of the collector as standing for a large number of gallons of brandy got washed away by a freshet in the creek on which her distillery was located and no brandy at all was made of that lot, and the jury acquitted her, Judge Beyd congratulating them on their gallantry. It is the first case known her where a woman had a government license for running a distillery. She was profuse in her thanks to court and jury for her escape, but looked pointedly at the district attornew, who prosecuted the case as she sailed out of court.

PRETTY SCENE IN CHURCH

Decorations and Soft Light Used With Telling Effect-Bride the Daughter of Judge Harrison.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WINCHESTER, VA., April 10.—The wedding of Miss Belle Knight Harrison, daughter of Judge Thomas W. Harrison, of this city, and Mr. Seabury Davies, son of the late John F. Davies, of Baltimore, Md., took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Christ Episcopal Church. The ceremony was witnessed by a large and fashionable throng of friends and invited guests, and the officiating clergymen were the Rev. Dr. William M. Dame, rector of Memorial Church, Baltimore, and the Rev. William D. Smith, of Christ Church. The decorations at the chancel were palms and Easter Illies, and the soft lights of candelabra shed a pleasing radiance on the pretty scene. For an hour before the service Professor Richens, of Hagerstown, Md., who played the wedding music, rendered a program of classic music on the new pipe organ of the church.

Plan for Promotion of Work Carried On by Woman's Association Is Discussed.

PRES. OGDEN AGAIN WIRES

Replies to Message of Greeting Sent Yesterday-Would Teach Agriculture.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 10.-The chief interest in to-day's session of the Conference for Education was centred in the afternoon meeting, which was given over to the women. Mrs. Lindsey Patterson, of Winston-Salem, presided, and a plan for the promotion of the work carried on by the women's associations for the improvement of public schools in the Southern States was discussed. These organizations are interested in the building of better rural schoolnouses and establishment of kindergartens and school gardens. Reports were submitted and plans discussed for the coming year. All the State delegations held meetings today.

The conference to-night adopted resolutions commending the work of such organizations as the School Improvement League and urging that they be extended to embrace the whole citizenship of the several States in their membership and include "in the scope of their purposes all the form scope of their purposes all the factors of the educational problem."

The conference also recorded appreciation of the important contribution to popular education made by the colugers of the South, by the State institutions, and by the private denomical mational colleges. elected to-morrow. A message was read from President Ogden in response to the greetings sont by the conference yesterday.

The morning session was given over to the superintendents of education from the Southern States. Reports on the work of the past year were submitted and plans outlined for the improvement of education. The suggestion of agricultural instruction in the high schools is meeting with favor among the educators and visitors attending the conference. Governor Terrell, of Georgia, was among the speakers.

You Are a Plodder; Get Out of the Rut.

A large percentage of the people in the world are plodders. Pretty good scheme, for the world needs plodders. But being a plodder is not enjoyable-to the plodder. Look about you, Mr. Plodder, and contemplate Mr. Success. What made him? He is built very much on the same order that you are-two hands and arms, two feet and legs, one head, two eyes and two ears. Also you have brains. Many Mr. Plodders think they have a good deal more brains than Mr. Success. Some of them have. Only Mr. Success used his brains. He advertised. The public believed. The natural result followed. From being Mr. Plodder be evoluted into Mr. Success-the Jeckyl and Hyde stunt.
